FOREWORD

Within these walls we dwelled, sharing the sweetness of victory, the bitter sting of defeat, the joys of learning, the ecstasy of challenge. These were wonderful moments, the joy of which has etched a permanent image upon our minds. In this yearbook the Smithsonian staff presents the people, the organizations, and the activities that have made these moments with remembering. This is a pictorial account of what our "Time Was."

BECAUSE OF YOU

DEDICATED TO YOU

The light of our lives; our inspiration in times of sorrow; our aid in moments of distress; the guiding star of our thriving horizons.

Moreover, do we dedicate this book to you because of your understanding nature, your kind consideration, and your wise decisions in the molding of our lives.

For these reasons we dedicate to you this record of our most revered high-school memories, but most of all do we make this dedication to you ----our beloved Parents--

Because we love you.

DEDICATION

DR. E. E. SMITH

Dr. Ezekial Ezra Smith was the spark that ignited the flame of learning in Fayetteville. His devoted service in the field of education makes any student of E. E. Smith High School proud to know that our dear school was named for such a man. Dr. Smith was known for his loyalty, integrity, industriousness, and his initiative.

IN MEMORIAM

E. E. Smith will long remember Mr. B. H. Walker, A devoted Educator, who was taken by the hands of fate to the great beyond. His life will serve as a guiding torch to us all and his elegant personalty, words of wisdom and remarkable patience will long be cherished in our minds.

F A C U L T Y

We follow the teachings of these great scholars who give us wisdom and knowledge as Socrates or Plato. These are our philosophers who guide us to our destiny.

To the class of 1962
Congratulations and sincere best wishes for success in your future.
You are about to join that vast number to true and loyal graduates of Smith.

May you use every ounce of your energy to uphold the traditions of your school and in turn bring additional prestige and honor to yourselves.
I am sure that there is a feeling of regret in leaving your school and the numerous associates it has given you. Yet, there is at the same time a pleasant anticipation of a new, rich, and successful life ahead.

Congratulation, too, on your commendable product, the 1962 Smithsonian. May it serve as a medium of recalling pleasant memories and friendships of days spent at Smith.

Sincerely

Our Principal
Mr. E. E. Miller

OUR FIRST LADY
Mrs. E. E. Miller with Mr. Miller

Miss M. H. Johnson
Secretary to the Principal

CLASS SONG

TUNE . . . MOON RIVER

Dear Smith High now the time has come
That we must say to you good-by.
Four years of happiness are now behind us,
Though locked in our hearts are the
Gathered here.

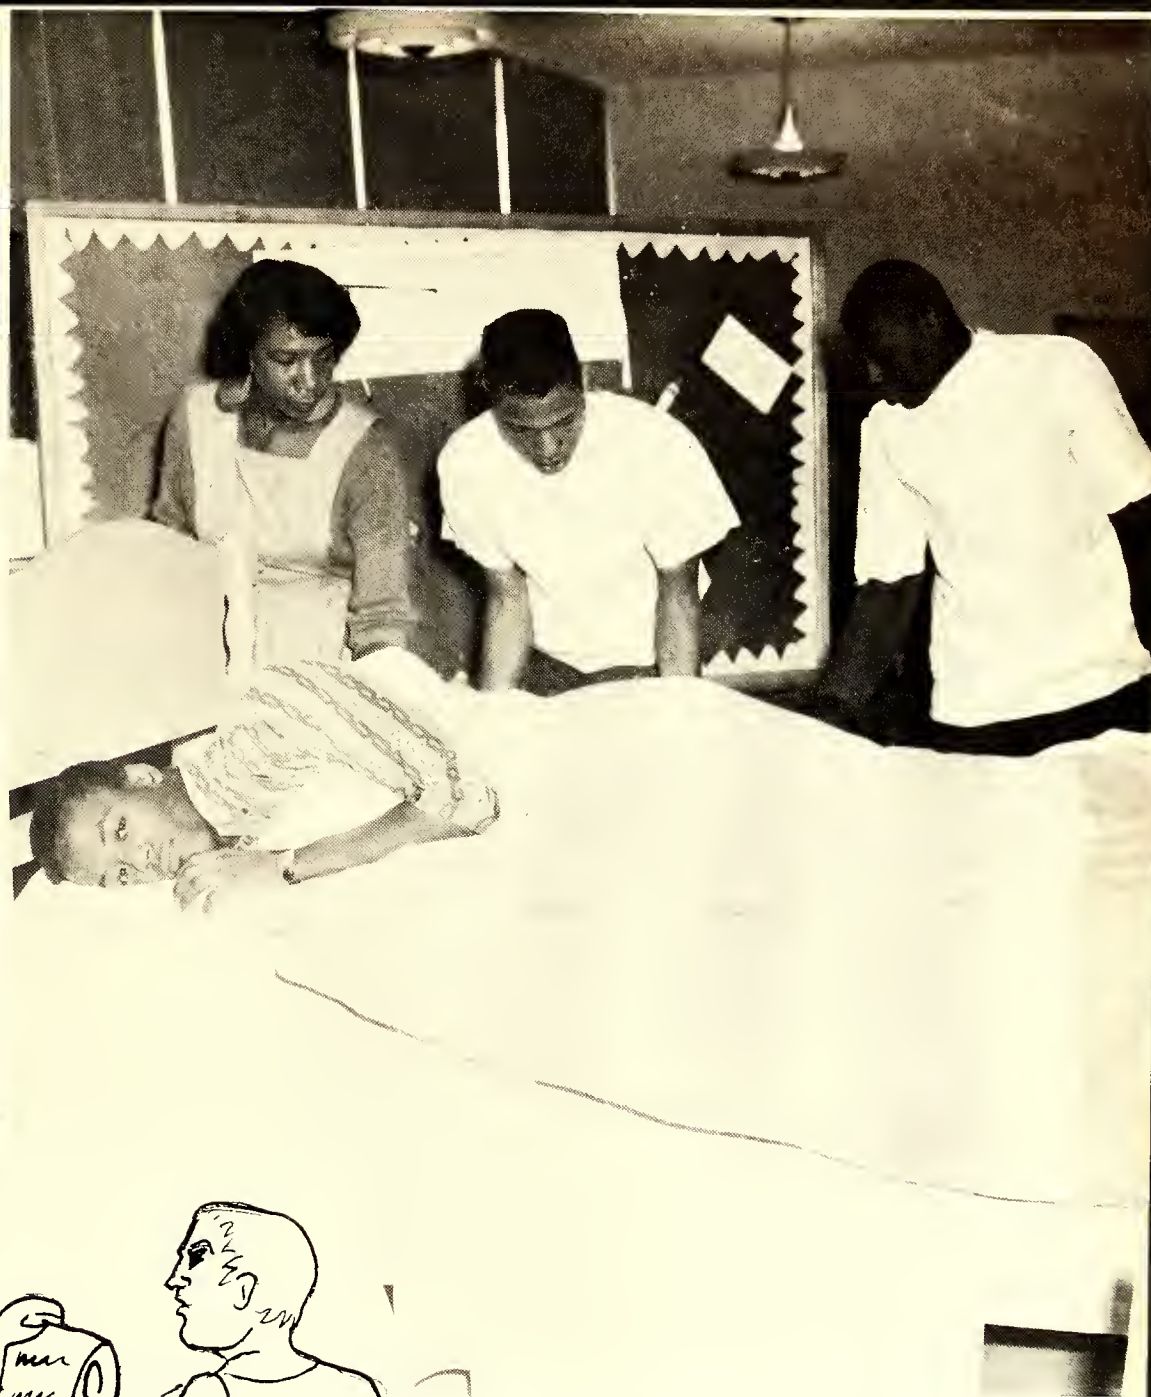

We'll go forward holding high thy light
To guide us to our destinies.
We're after our own rainbow's end
Waiting round the bend
Until we meet again . . .
Dear Smith High, good-by.

Emma McEachern

CLASS POEM
1962

Hail to thee, fair Smith
School we love so true.
In our hearts we stand beside thee,
Faithful through and through.

Hail to thee, dear Smith
Ere we take our parting ways.
In the halls and on the campus
We have spent our happiest days.

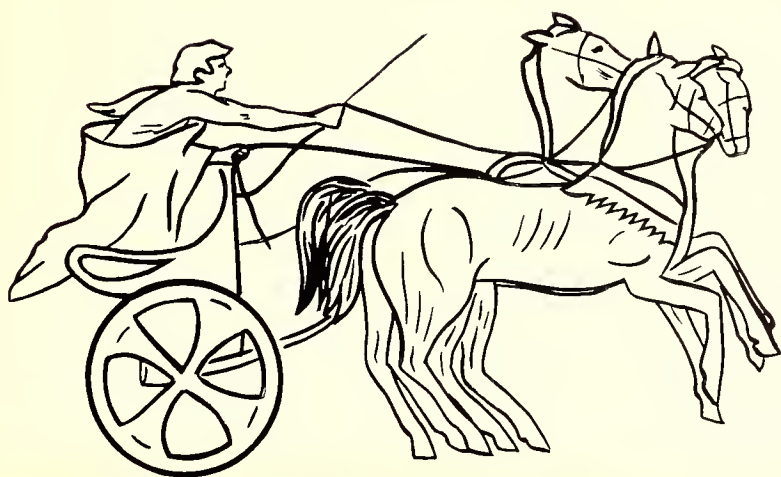

Hail to thee dear Smith
As life's patterns must be spun
Some are failures; some are heartaches
Some are glorious victories won.

You will be our guiding light,
Challenging our destiny; Inspiring our lives
So, fair E. E. Smith
We hail, all hail to Thee.

CLASS PROPHECY

It was June 4, 1972.

As I prepared for a trip to North Carolina, I listened to a special news cast from the announcer Babs Parker. Our country has been successful in its attempt to launch Commander Charles Willis on the moon. It seems incredible! Just ten years ago, we were rejoicing over our first successful orbital flight. Yes, the years have brought about many changes.

As I boarded the plane for North Carolina and the reunion of my high school class, I decided to stop off in some of the metropolitan cities and see the sights. As the plane left my home in California where Clyde Wooten has established the Los Angeles School of Jazz, I remembered that it was time for me to make arrangements for my annual musical concert. I had decided to include the famous Fred Byrd and his Vic Recording Company. Mr. Byrd, a former classmate, had included in his group Charles Smith, William Carver, and Sylvester Burns as soloists and Miss Judith Wilkins as pianist who are also former classmates. The Beaufort Music-Makers are to be a part of the concert also. Other former classmates with this group are Annie Williams, Vinnie Purcell, Gertie Campbell, Maxine Chapman, and Sheryl Allen. The pianist is Linda Robinson.

Times Square was my next stop. There were millions of people gathered around Broadway. When I asked a young lady what was going on, she said, "Why gosh mam, everybody's here to listen to those great singers Lester Avant and Cleveland Hall. They're the greatest." I learned that after their performance, they were leaving New York with the members of Mr. Byrd's Recording Company for the reunion.

After I left Broadway, Yankee Stadium was next. The game of the year was about to begin. Yep, you guessed it! The New York Yankees were preparing to play the Chicago Whitesoxs. Can you imagine who the stars of the teams were? Joseph Gillespie, Billy Davis, and Allen Cole . . . just like in high school, the best players on the team.

While driving to the airport, I saw a recently built hospital, Berrien Hospital to be exact. I decided to see if it had been founded by my old classmate Thomas Berrien. And believe me, it was. The head doctors and nurses were David Prince, Samuel Prince, Sandy Robinson, Rosa Porter, Sandra Ingram and Ella McRae. Janice Baldwin and Judith Moore were serving in the capacity as social workers associated with the hospital. Jerry Wooten was working here as a Bacteriologist. Jerry and his co-workers had left for the reunion.

In Washington as I got off the plane, Babs McNeill and Novella McDougald were getting on. Both of them are top models in Washington.

Howard University was my next stop. Here I discovered that Wallace Turner is President of the institution. Myrtle MacRae, Edward Taylor, Sennie Brown, Carl Bronson, and John Hughley were all members of the faculty. They were making plans to go to the reunion.

At last I reached my destination, E. E. Smith Senior High School. Here I was greeted by Principal Wilburn Massey and his secretary, Jackie Williams. Yes, it seems as though the members of the Class of '62 are doing well.

Our meeting was opened by Rev. Trellis Walker, a local minister and it was closed by Senator Frank Moore. "May the Grace of God go with us and keep us now and forevermore."

Emma McEachern, Class Prophet

Editor's Note

Education should be a conscious methodical application of the best means in the wisdom of the ages to the end that youth may know how to live completely.

Austin O. Malley

The aim of E. E. Smith High School in her endeavor to produce outstanding young men and women for college and life has been profoundly expressed in these words. We have been exposed to the wisdom of the ages through a thorough and well trained faculty, competent administration, and various intellectual contacts.

This book commemorates the recollections that we encountered during a walk down memory lane. Confusion, excitement, fear of not meeting deadlines, and many other headaches all played their parts as we completed the venturesome assignment. But the SMITHSONIAN has emerged.

The editor wishes to express his deepest gratitude to the staff members who have worked unceasingly toward the production of this book.

The editor also extends thanks to the administration, faculty, and student body for their kind cooperation in the production of this yearbook.

We can truly say that every tomorrow will be complete if all our moments are half as sweet as all our time was then.
